HOW IS IT (WE ARE HERE)

How is it we are here, on this path we walk,
In this world of pointless fear, filled with empty talk,
Descending from the ape as scientist-priests all think,
Will they save us in the end, we're trembling on the brink.

Men's mighty mine-machines digging in the ground,
Stealing rare minerals where they can be found.
Concrete caves with iron doors, bury it again,
While a starving frightened world fills the sea with grain.

Her love is like a fire burning inside,
Her love is so much higher it can't be denied,
She sends us her glory, it's always been there,
Her love's all around us, it's there for you and me to share.
Men's mighty mine-machines. . .

BRO., TO YOU WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK.

We can only speak for a few of the members of St. Martin's High- but we hope that the feelings of the whole school are the same as ours. As long as we have been at this school you have been a friend- yes and a teacher and prefect- but mainly a friend. None of us will forget you Bro. Although the saying has been used over and over again in the last three years or so, without you there would be no ARROW, we are sure they meant it in the past and it was true again this year, but we would like to extend the old saying a little further- without you there would not be this annual or quite a few other things.

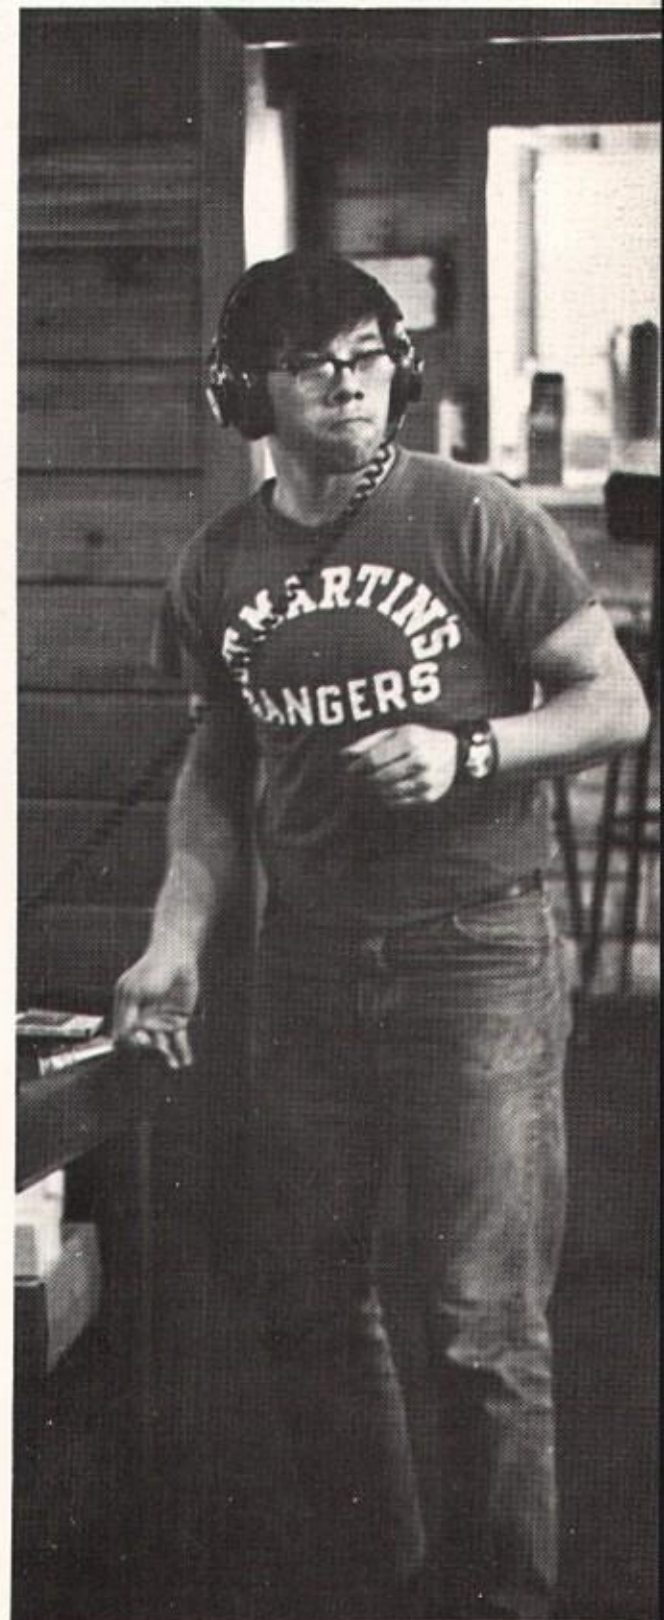

Dedicating this book to you is only a small token of our appreciation to you. Thanks for everything!

This year, Drama played an important role in student activities. Their plays proved popular with the student body; but while they were not in the style of Shakespeare, they were in good taste.

Their productions were many; to name: a few of them was GIRL SHY and BROTHER ORCHARD.

Many of the members went to the various Drama Junkets to the Seattle Reperatory theatre. In Seattle, the Junkecteers enjoyed a fine meal at one of Seattles prominent Restaurants, and had the pleasure of good company. The Junkets were sponsored by Brother Boniface Lazarri O.S.B. and Brother Neal Roth O.S.B.

The seminary at St. Martin's is small but even if it was large one could hardly determine which one of the student body was a "Sem".

The seminarians are involved in almost all activities, and in work crews which can be seen around campus.

These young men work and play, with a special consideration of all important vocation to God.

Jas Smith

The highest scholastic honor for this year's graduating class goes to James Alastair Smith with an accumulated G.P.A. of 3.91. Jas is a student in every sense of the word, taking college, as well as high school classes. But his accomplishments encompass more than the area of scholastics; Student Body President, Captain of the Debate Team, The Arrow staff, his list of activities extend into all realms of life at St. Martin's. The SAMAH staff is pleased to give him special recognition. Congratulations!

Salutatorian

Dave Vernon

It is certainly fitting that David receive the recognition he so richly deserves. Not only does he excel as a student holding an accumulated G.P.A. of 3.65, but in all other aspects of life as St. Martin's. Student Body Vice-President, Captain of the Cross Country Team, a mainstay of the basketball and track teams are but a few of his many accomplishments. By this small tribute the SAMAH staff hopes to honor Number One.

Martin Petkovits, Class President; Terry Marlott, class Secretary; John Ybarra class Treasurer; Doug Metz, Representative; and Fr. Kieran, class advisor; worked hard to keep the class of 71 the leading voice in Student Council.

Without the help of Fr. Kieran, the class officers would have had a rough going he worked closely with the students. On all their class projects. The job of keeping a class unified is always a tough one and the class officers are chosen with this task in mind.

The class of 71 has had it ups and downs this year, but in the final analysis you'll find true grit.

I would like to take a part of this page to thank all those people who were directly, or indirectly responsible for helping with the production of this annual. Br. Romuald, advisor, Ken Werner, American Yearbook Representative, Allen Carter, Fr. Conrad Rausch, faculty, and all the students, of St. Martin's High School. I would also like to thank Dan Hanley for the numerous pictures he took, on his own, for the annual.

I sincerely hope this 1971 Samahi will keep the memories of the past year alive for many years to come.

HOW IS IT (WE ARE HERE)

How is it we are here, on this path we walk,
In this world of pointless fear, filled with empty talk,
Descending from the ape as scientist-priests all think,
Will they save us in the end, we're trembling on the brink.

Men's mighty mine-machines digging in the ground,
Stealing rare minerals where they can be found.
Concrete caves with iron doors, bury it again,
While a starving frightened world fills the sea with grain.

Her love is like a fire burning inside,
Her love is so much higher it can't be denied,
She sends us her glory, it's always been there,
Her love's all around us, it's there for you and me to share.
Men's mighty mine-machines. . .
